i18n

i18n.commitEncoding
Character encoding the commit messages are stored in; Git itself does not care per se, but this information is necessary e.g. when importing commits from emails or in the gitk graphical history browser (and possibly in other places in the future or in other porcelains). See e.g. linkgit:git-mailinfo[1]. Defaults to ’utf-8’.

i18n.logOutputEncoding
Character encoding the commit messages are converted to when running ’git log’ and friends.

□□□ #2
□ □□□ □□□ 2026-10-31 20:07:22 UTC
□ □□□ □□□ 2026-10-31 20:07:23 UTC